

ROB HILL

Rob became involved because his nephews Adam and Sam Lord started playing. He started coaching beginners with the crusade of ensuring they all were taught skills and had equal time on the court. He often coached three or four teams. Rob then started to watch younger teams play and sent notes back to the Club which were useful for future selections and rewarding strong performances with publicity. There were often reports about four to seven teams per Saturday. In Late December and early January, Rob assisted with the menial but essential tasks of fixturing for the tournament, such as preparing cards, checking time gaps between games and checking compatibilities for coaches. This constituted about a hundred hours of voluntary help each year, over a period of almost twenty years. Rob received life membership in 2011.
